WELCOME TO DELL RAPIDS

Welcome to our community. Thank you for your interest in Dell Rapids. Hopefully, this guide will give you all the information you need to enjoy our community.

Visiting with the people in Dell Rapids will give you an even better feel and understanding of why they want to live here. Every community has places of interest, seasonal activities and other amenities. What is most important are the people who make Dell Rapids a caring and progressive community.

Whether you are just visiting us or trying to decide if you want to live here, do visit with the people in our community. I do believe this is when you will discover the essence and character of Dell Rapids.

The most distinctive feature of Dell Rapids is our buildings constructed from Sioux Quartzite. Our location along the Big Sioux River is a valuable asset. Mining of the 1.5 billion-year-old rock is done by the LG Everist Corporation.

Today, many businesses are looking to locate in Dell Rapids where a great quality of life is offered. Dell Rapids offers two educational options for K-12, many churches as well as opportunities to participate and volunteer in community activities.

As one gets to know the people, one also gets to feel more and more a part of the community. I can list its many attributes, but it's a lot more fun to explore and experience the many things Dell Rapids has to offer. We are proud of Dell Rapids and wish that you have a pleasant experience.

Tom Earley
-Mayor of Dell Rapids

LOCAL ATTRACTIONS

SIGHT-SEEING & ATTRACTIONS

A LITTLE HISTORY

Historically known as "The Little City With Big Attractions," Dell Rapids was a destination to many big name traveling acts like Conway Twitty and Roy Orbison. Most recently, the Dell Rapids Theatre was featured on NBC's Today Show. It has hosted two red carpet premieres for the movies Walt Before Mickey and the Little Mermaid (live action) film.

Today, Dell Rapids retains this title by offering a variety of attractions for visitors and residents to enjoy both indoors and outdoors.

PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

Dells Xpress offers transportation within the city limits. It also offers limited transportation outside the Dell Rapids community. For more info go to: <https://brookingsareatransit.com/dellsxpress/>

EVENT INFORMATION

For a list of community events and resources, please visit the Dell Rapids Chamber website at: dellrapidschamber.com

Lucile Fargo's Home

Author of Prairie Girl. Home not available for tours. A copy of the book is available for purchase at the Dell Rapids Museum.

Dell Rapids Museum

The museum is located downtown in the old Dieson Department Store. It has arguably the best collection of local history in the area.

Grand Opera House

Built in 1888 by Wallace Dow, the Grand Operal House is a historial jewel hosting regular musical acts, plays and performances.

Bath House

Built in 1934 by the Dell Rapids Park Board and City Council in cooperation with the Civil Works Administration. Located in the southeast corner of the City Park

Old Water Tower

Built in 1894, the water tower was made using pink Sioux Quartzite. The 45 foot water tower is 1 of only 3 still standing in the United States today. It is located at the corner of 10th Street and Orleans Ave.

Historic DELL RAPIDS

Considered the premier architect in South Dakota and reverently referred to as "the Builder on the Prairie" Wallace Dow's stone of choice was Sioux Quartzite; mined here in Dell Rapids. Dow is responsible for the construction of six buildings in Dell Rapids. The first stone school house (1885), the Cooley Block (1885), the Grand Opera House (1888), the Augustine Johnson Block (1888), the First National Bank (1889) and the St. Peter Lutheran Church (1902).

A combination of weather, skill, and resources shaped Dell Rapids downtown. In 1888, a large fire burned downtown Dell Rapids. The fire was devastating to the community and to guarantee it wouldn't happen again, the city passed an ordinance. This new ordinance required downtown buildings to be "built of durable construction."

Luckily, Dell Rapids had all of the durable construction materials they could ever need right next door in a mine filled with pink Sioux Quartzite.

Thanks to Wallace Dow and the abundant availability of Sioux Quartzite, Dell Rapids was able to rebuild a beautiful downtown that would last forever.

Dell Rapids

HISTORIC DOWNTOWN

When visiting Dell Rapids, the first thing you will notice are the buildings downtown. Made of pink quartzite they stand tall and strong. These 19th and 20th century buildings were designed in a few different styles. Victorian, Romanesque, Revival and Neoclassical. Having buildings with varying design influences is not uncommon for a downtown.

What makes Dell Rapids unique is that most of the buildings downtown were built by four brothers. The Paulson Brothers came to Dell Rapids from Norway in the early 1880's and are responsible for the construction of buildings all over town. Notable buildings they are responsible for: Carnegie Library, the public school, St. Mary School, Odd Fellows Home, St. Peter Lutheran Church and the Episcopal Church.
